Joshua Kellogg

kellogg.20.joshua@gmail.com | (720) 441-8268 | Aurora, Colorado

LinkedIn | GitHub

Summary

Entry-level back-end developer seeking opportunities for growth within the field of web development.

Seeking remote or in-person roles; willing to relocate.

Recognized by colleagues for:

- Effective communication
- Attention to detail
- Positive outlook

Technical Skills

Front End

- HTML
- CSS
- JavaScript
- AJAX
- Bootstrap
- JQuery

Back End

- Node.JS
- Express.JS
- MySQL
- Relational Databases
- Sequelize
- Handlebars
- Java

Projects

- Menu Match | Repository | Deployed
    - Role:
        - API integration, Client-side rendering functionality
    - Description:
        - Menu match is a front-end web application which makes use of third-party APIs to aggregate data that would serve as useful to those looking to entertain at home.

- Dev Row Records | Repository | Deployed
    - Role:
        - Management of RESTful back-end API routing, Database integration and manipulation
    - Description:
        - Dev Row Records is a fictional record label invented for the purpose of demonstrating the functionality of a full-stack application, including a RESTful back-end API, the use of the Sequelize ORM to interface with a relational database system, and the use of handlebars templating in order to serve dynamic content to users.

Professional Experience

- Denver, Colorado | August 2023 - Present | Barista | Ink! Coffee
    - Responsibilities:
        - Thinking creatively and communicating effectively in order to optimize the process of maintaining customer satisfaction by meeting their needs in a timely manner.

- Denver, Colorado - March 2022 - August 2023 | Sales Associate | Vans
    - Responsibilities:
        - Communicating effectively with customers and team members in order to understand and exceed customer expectations.
    - Reason for departure:
        - Opportunity for further personal and professional growth presented itself elsewhere

Education

- Full Stack Flex Certification | University of Denver Bootcamp

- High School Diploma | Cherokee Trail High School